Westward Expansion 1

IN CONGRESS, JULY 4, 1776.
 The unanimous Declaration of the thirteen united States of America.

When in the course of these events, we considered the solemn obligations which we are under to our Brethren in other parts of the continent, we thought upon the rights which they have inherited from their forefathers, and we were sensible that we were bound to exert our united strength for their common liberty. We were sensible that we were bound to exert our united strength for their common liberty. We were sensible that we were bound to exert our united strength for their common liberty. We were sensible that we were bound to exert our united strength for their common liberty.

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

These materials are the result of the work, advice, and encouragement of numerous individuals over many years. Some of those singled out here already know the depth of our gratitude; others may be surprised to find themselves thanked publicly for help they gave quietly and generously for the sake of the enterprise alone. To helpers named and unnamed we are deeply grateful.
